Seniors cool off at Loriella's pool, while Carrie Mills and Arlene Rodriguez warm up in the sun. Michelle Mendez spent her summer with some friends in Colombia, while some of us stay around.

Chargers
like their

It's all about practice!

Chancellor's athletes spend hours practicing to start off a great year. Ladonna Winters and Talya Mandzych work hard at band practice but they still find time to have fun.

Chargers swim against the stream as they pursue their goals.

Many Chancellor students think of summer as an opportunity to make money and learn valuable job skills. John McNally, Kensey Geis, Bryan Jackson, and Addie Dials cheerfully worked in department stores. A group of Chancellor students enjoyed working together at Chick-fil-a. Laura Bell and Jessica Hopkin also worked in a fast food restaurant. Mindy Camell, Mary Barrera, Tony Browne, and Christy Plant worked in businesses in Spotsylvania Mall. LaDonna Winters and Duston Meyers keep the theater at the mall clean and orderly. Judith Press and Jamie Bolger work in other businesses in town. Megan Monteith makes sure everyone's head stays above water as she lifeguards at a local pool.

Chancellor's teams and organizations are never alone as they pursue excellence. They always have the support of the student body, faculty, and staff. This support was demonstrated at the first pep rally of the year held on September 13. The senior class showed their enthusiasm by uniquely designing mortarboards.

The first week of school is full of emotions. Danielle Hawn gets off the bus with many expectations for the new school year. Rebecca Sprick and Kathleen Ryan enjoy discussing their summers over lunch. Kevin Nogueira, Samantha Jacobson, and Lauren Nogueira walk with anticipation of what this year is to bring. There are many homerooms during the first week of school where curious students are informed of what is expected of them throughout the year. Les Brymer and Brett Knowles share an emotional greeting after the long summer break. Eric Nordquist, Meghan O'Flinn, and Meghan Hicklin compare schedules. Kimberley Monroe and Jennifer Budion sit on a bench and relax. Sarah Gibert, Adam Johnson, and Lina Ciarleglio eagerly wait in line for lunch, while Stephanie Shiflett shares her lunch with a friend. Seniors Melanie Mueller, Rebecca Johnson, and Jennifer Linner talk about the motivational assembly. Raymond Lille walks to his next class. During the first week, underclassmen get their pictures taken. David Lewis and Xavier Richardson talk to each other about their new schedule.

Your high school memories will last a lifetime, so enjoy them all. Kim Dowdell and Amy Creech show school spirit at the pool. Sarah McClain and Meghan Thomas enjoy hanging out together. A group of field hockey members can't wait to get back to school. Cara Small, Jamie Bolger, and Andrea Smith pose for a picture. Courtney Debruhl and Claire Hong are trying to dry off.

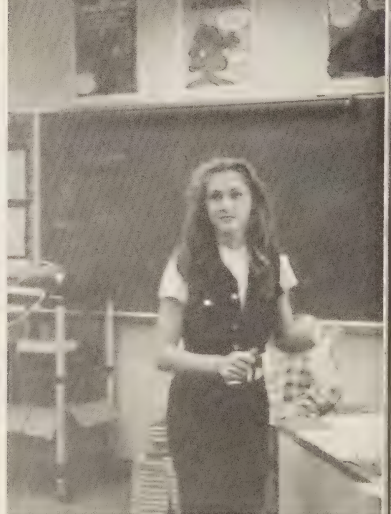

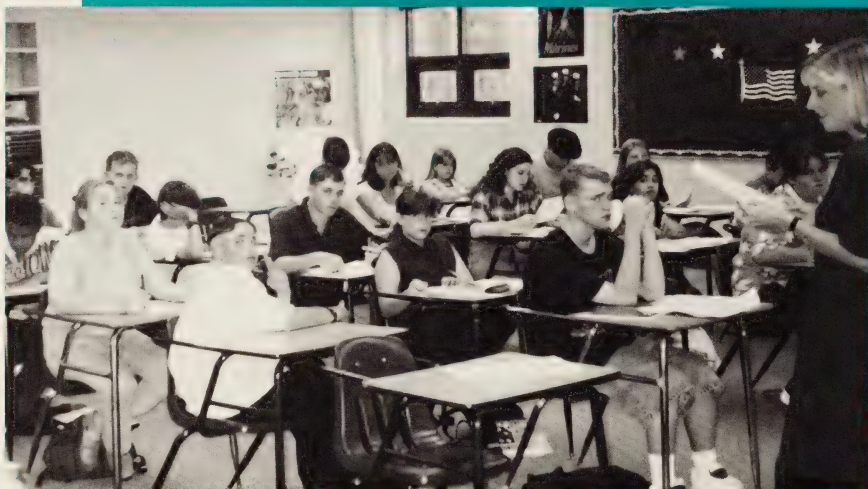

It's all in the attitude!

Stand up for what you believe

Chargers

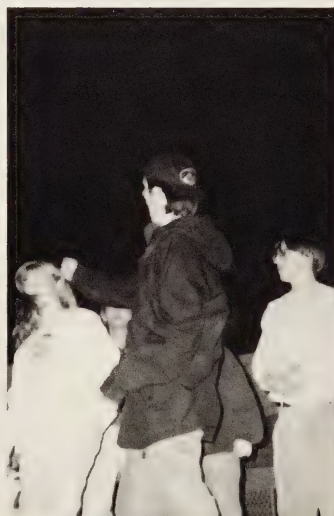

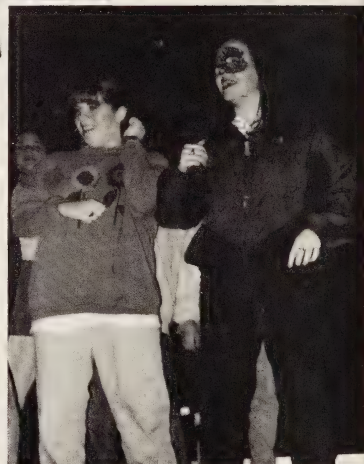

Are made to feel welcome

Chancellor makes the new faces in the "pod" feel welcome. Mr. Nelson's freshmen class listens attentively to an explanation of what the year is going to hold. Landon Perry and Joey Hittley try to find their way around at freshmen orientation. Mrs. Cronwell, a new government teacher, sells her freshmen homework the price of a Charger, while Tara Brichner fills out one of the many necessary forms. Danish students, Chancellor also added many new lovely members. Annette Lavagnino and Natalie Law learn their way around the halls, while Robbin Knowles and Nicole Olsund work diligently. Mr. Daniels is known to be an administrator that one can really look up to. Chancellor was glad to be the host to Pranasika Apeli from Germany and Ulla Jonsson from Sweden. A freshman takes a break under the stars, while Alex Haskland gets his schedule ready at the freshmen orientation.

Spirit

Homecoming.

This year rain did not dampen Charger spirit at homecoming.

For a change, Mother Nature did not send rain to dampen our Homecoming weekend. In years past the Queen and King were often crowned in downpours, and beautifully dressed girls had to rush to the car to avoid getting wet. Not this year. Ironically, this year's yearbook theme is Just Add Water, but we'll forgive the weatherman this time.

Spirit week is one of the most exciting weeks of the year. MASH Day, Twin Day, Pajama Day, Mardi Gras Day, and School Colors Day were a great success. Another treat was the return to the Thursday night Bonfire, which brought out hundreds of enthusiastic students. During the Friday, October 11 game, we were entertained by thirty-one antique cars and floats. Homecoming parade winners were: TSA, Best Overall; Chargerettes, Most Spirited; Spanish Club, Most Imaginative; SADD, Most Original; and the Drama Club received the Mardi Gras Award. The football team added to the excitement of homecoming with a suspenseful game decided in the last few seconds in the favor, unfortunately, of Culpeper

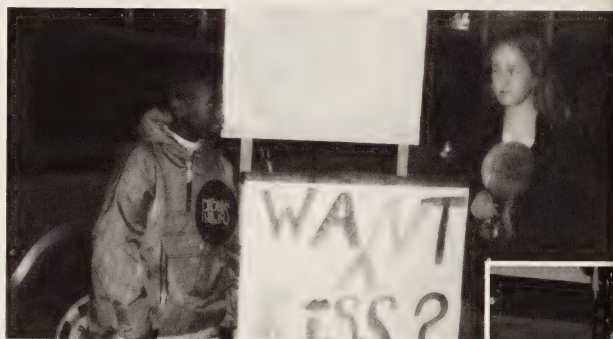

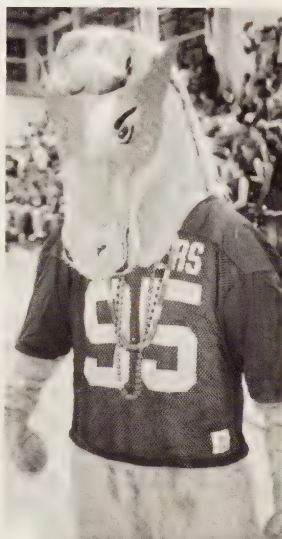

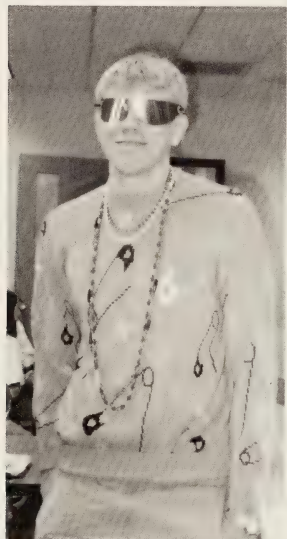

Mardi Gras At Chancellor

Our theme for Homecoming 1996 was Mardi Gras, offering classes and clubs many choices for decorating their walls and floats. Every club and class participated in the wall decorations this year, and we had seven more floats than last year.

Winners of the wall contest are: Dance Team — Best Overall; TSA — Bayou Award; French Club — Best Use of Theme; Latin Club — Most Artistic; German Club — Court Jester; Step Team — Most Spirited; Junior Class — Best Class; Math Club — Most Original; FBLA — Most Colorful; EAC — Most Frugal.

The Mardi Gras Court and festivities for 1996 Homecoming was presided over by Queen Trish Graham and King Naeem Coleman. Senior Attendants were Ali Duncan, Allison Marcus, Ellen Rohrbaugh, Heather Wade, Tony Bonacci, Tony Broad, John Mason, and Jeremy Pitner. Junior Attendants included Esther Jones, Michelle Mendez, Brad Haun, and Josh Kidd. Sophomore Attendants were Kelly Eckert, Dina Worley, Aaron Lancaster, and Patrick Patterson. Freshmen Attendants were Jessica Gates, Stefanie Hill, Daniel Almodovar, and Todd Phillips. The dance was attended by hundreds of Chancellor's students and their guests, all of whom enjoyed themselves and displayed this year's Homecoming theme.

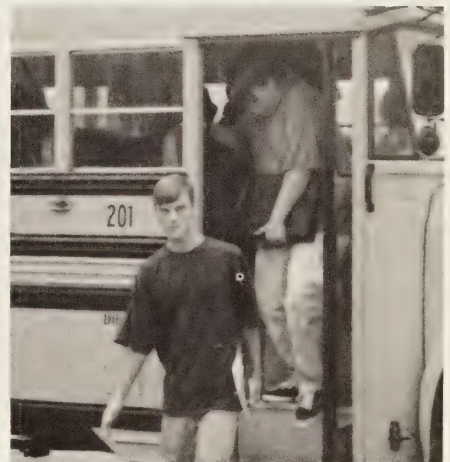

The bright colors, costumes, masks, and confetti set the mood for fun and entertainment this year. The theme of Mardi Gras was one of the most successful ever!

Each day many Chancellor students load the bus and go on their journey to the Spotsylvania Vocational Center. Josh Albert and Matt Chandler are ready for an exciting day. Jessica McCauley learns a new hairstyle. David Horan and Tara Walsh learn in their multi-media class. Erica Ford and Cambray Winfrey pose for a picture during their dental class. Keyasa Moore and Stacey Keckeis experiment with a printer in their class. Each of the students day at the vocational center is full of fun and excitement.

Amy Anderson sells tickets and Maggie Halloran and Mr. Moore pop by to say hi. Mike Throckmorton and Josh Uhlman wait for the bell to ring, while Maria Chiesa and Mitchell Brooks have a blast at one of the many SCA sponsored dances. Susan Walker and Darren Hickman enjoy the walk into school, while Glen Cross lounges under the stairs. Two friends talk while Lisa Lyonnais expresses herself. Darrin Comfort walks down the stairs, while some chargers take a minute to converse. Quitrell Washington works diligently and Meghan Papke and Meghan Wycoff relax in the commons area. Josh Causin and Curtis Cooper play hackey sack while Brandy Wachter talks on the phone. Colby Riblet, Hendrix Moore and William Sugg rest before the bell.

As the river flows

the currents will change

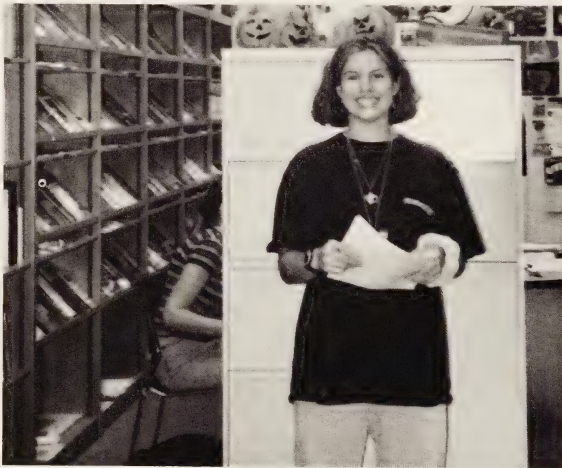

Contrary to popular opinion you've discovered school is kind of fun. You can get your driver's license without knowing how to parallel park. And you don't die giving a speech. It's been a ride. Good thing we've got memories.

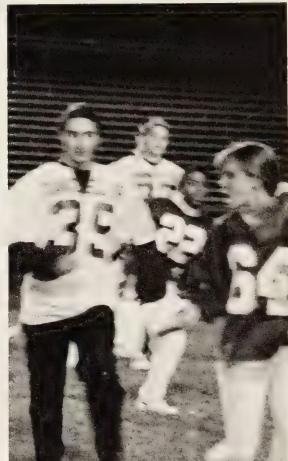

As Fall Flows Into Winter

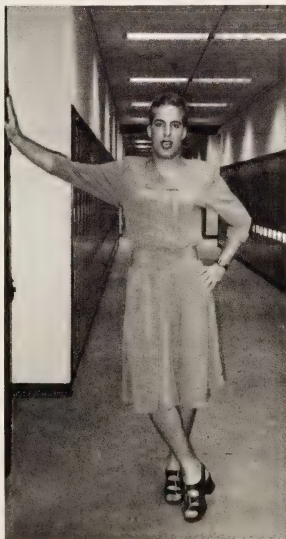

One sad occurrence this year was the passing of ten year old Jerid Demarco who died on November 3. Jerid is seen here during one of his fundraisers for the bone marrow transplant that we hoped would save his life. He fought a good fight. His life has been an example for all of us to follow.

The Calm Before the Storm

The transition from fall to winter can be seen by the different events that occur at Chancellor. Beginning with Halloween Chancellor students and faculty disguise themselves and decorate for the arrival of fall. Amy Talley, Robert Wentz, Josh Grinnell, Kara Lardi, Meaghan Papke, Mike Setti, and Jessica Messick dressed as characters from Alice in Wonderland. Briana Cramer and Mr. Larken show their charger spirit by dressing up on Halloween. For Thanksgiving FHA sponsored a can food drive where over 1700 cans were collected. Mrs. Stello and Christine Livesay box the cans up for delivery. The junior class sponsored Chancellor's first ever powder puff football game held on November 20th. Upperclassmen and underclassmen girls battled it out on the football field while the guys were on the sidelines cheering. The game was a huge success with the upperclassmen winning with a score of 30 to 6.

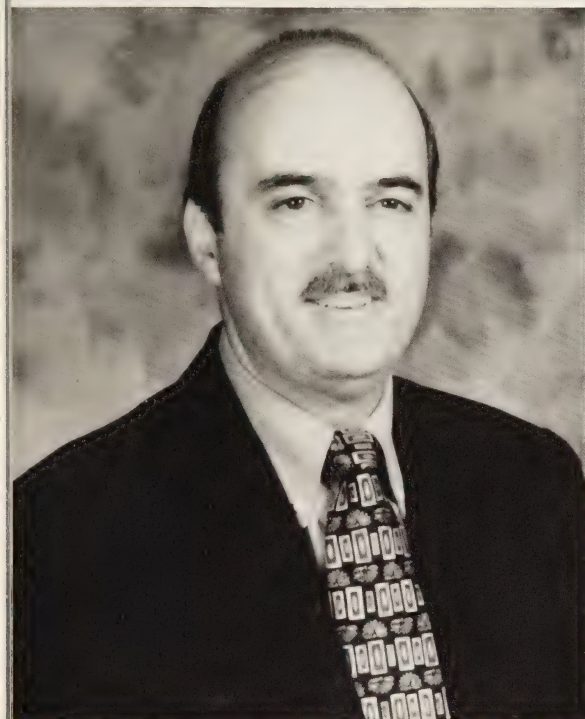

ACADEMICS

The beginning of the school year means getting back into the “swim” of things. New classes, new teachers, and new friends create the excitement of returning to school. Chancellor students continue working hard for classes, clubs, sports, and other activities into the year. Many of these activities are made possible due to the extra time, work, and dedication put in by students and teachers.

Mr. John R. Marra, Jr., Principal

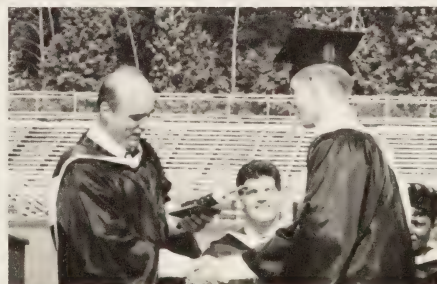

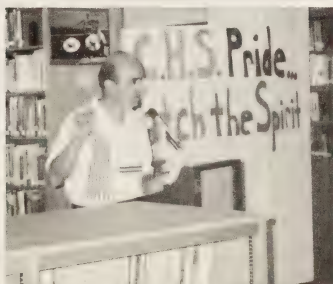

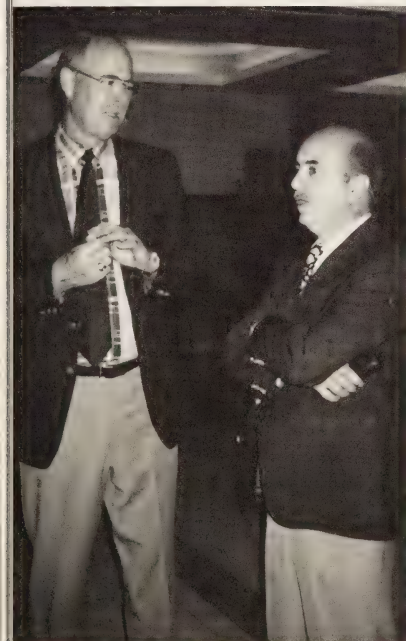

Those At the Head of the Line

During a typical school day at Chancellor, Mr. Marra is seen in the halls speaking with students or enforcing the tardy bell. Visibility is a vital part of Mr. Marra's job. Since he has taken over as principal here at Chancellor, many things have changed. He has improved the school's atmosphere by allowing the many benches and plants that are seen along every hallway.

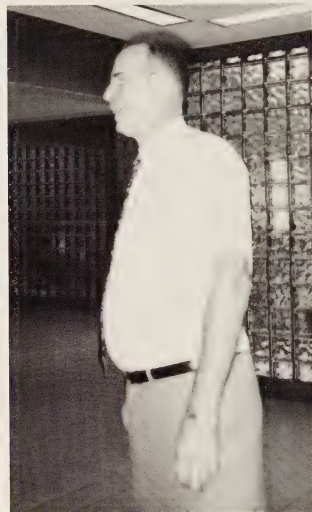

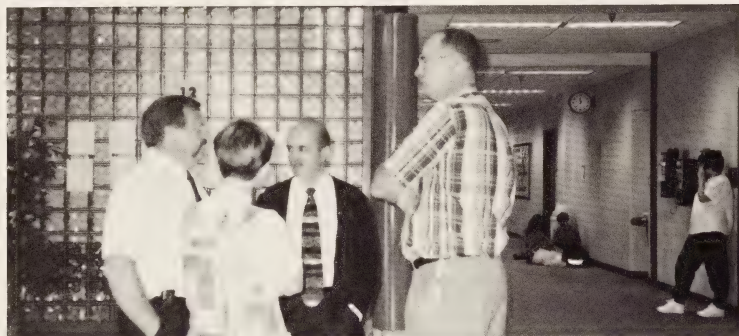

Mr. Marra's job does not end when the dismissal bell rings. Mr. Marra can be seen at many after school activities. It is not uncommon to find Mr. Marra showing his Charger pride at Chancellor's sporting events.

Mr. Marra does far more than enforcing rules. He is always there when students and teachers need him. Every student and teacher here at Chancellor has Mr. Marra's encouragement, dedication, and support.

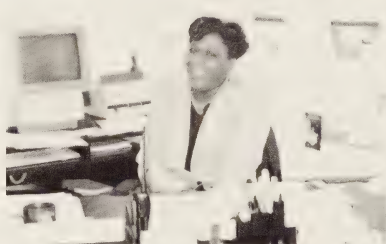

Assistant Principals

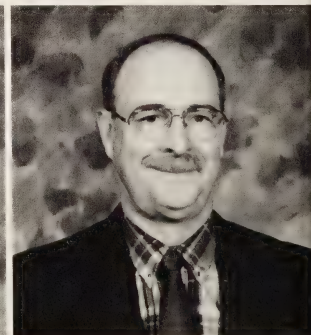

We Have Four To Provide For More

The new staff of Assistant Principals are constantly working hard to make school more enjoyable for the students.

Mr. Covert and Mr. Daniel are the new faces around Chancellor, but don't worry Ms. Bauer and Mrs. Bass-Fortune know how things work, and have no problem with keeping the kids in line. However the underclassmen better watch out because Mr. Covert and Mr. Daniel are learning fast.

OFFICE STAFF

Helping to Get the Job Done

This year was Ms. Harrison's first year as head secretary. Mrs. Meadows began working here at Chancellor this year. She caught on quickly to all of the work the main office does. As our attendance secretary, Mrs. Cechman finds senior skip day the most difficult to deal with. Chancellor's bookkeeper, Mrs. Scott, is always busy handling the accounts of the school and its clubs. We thank our office staff for helping everything to run smoothly.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

Chairperson: Mrs. Sandra S. Pennington

Our English Department here at Chancellor is one of the largest departments. As department chairperson, Mrs. Pennington finds November the most exciting time of the year because "students have settled into a routine". If she could change one thing about Chancellor, she would "like to be able to know every faculty member well".

Seniors spend their last year talking and having fun with their friends where ever they go.

Senior Preferences

When asked to define "attitude", most seniors said ones personality. Others take a different view, as seen by the following quotes:

- "Whole perspective on life"
- "A certain humor about themselves"
- "Spiteful"
- "How you present yourself"

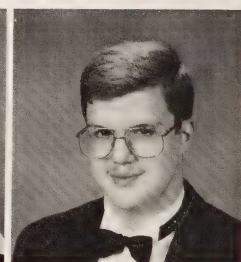

The response given by seniors when asked if they know how to swim is that 73 percent said yes they know how to swim and 27 percent said no. Also when asked if seniors drink bottled water a majority of girls do drink bottled water but guys don't. Their favorite brand of water was Evian followed by Poland Springs. Our survey also proved that 89 percent of our senior class does not spend more than two hours studying each night. Favorite day of the week (in descending order): Friday, Saturday, Thursday, Sunday, Wednesday, Tuesday and Monday.

Elizabeth A. Darbonne "Beth" Be willing to lose a battle in order to win the war.

Sophomores Spill Their Thoughts

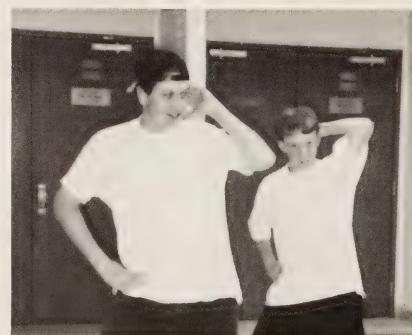

Brian Moss and Robert Conley prepare their cheers for the Powder Puff game.

Sophomores revealed a little bit about themselves in a poll taken during the first week of school. Ninety-six percent of the class of Ninety-Nine know how to swim. Most prefer to swim in a pool but some like to swim in the ocean while others prefer to swim in a lake and the least favorite place was a river. Twenty-six percent of the sophomore classes' families own a pool and seventeen percent own hot tubs. One fourth of the sophomore class drinks bottled water regularly with Evian as the preferred brand. Most sophomores spend their week anticipating Friday, but some await Saturday. In between the weekends Fifty-four percent of the sophomores spend zero to one hours a day studying and forty-two percent spend between one and two hours attentively considering their school work. Forty-eight percent of the sophomore class have a bad day once a week and thirty-one percent have a bad day once a month. Fifty percent of the sophomore class have been able to dodge trouble and never have been grounded.

The Freshmen Homecoming attendants were Daniel Almodovar, Todd Phillips, Jessica Gates, and Stephanie Hill. This year's Homecoming theme was Mardi Gras. Homecoming celebrations included the Homecoming Bonfire and the half-time parade. The activities during Spirit Week included Mardi Gras day, M.A.S.H., Twin day, Pajama day, and School Colors day. Much enthusiasm was displayed during this exciting time of the school year.

Inter Club Council

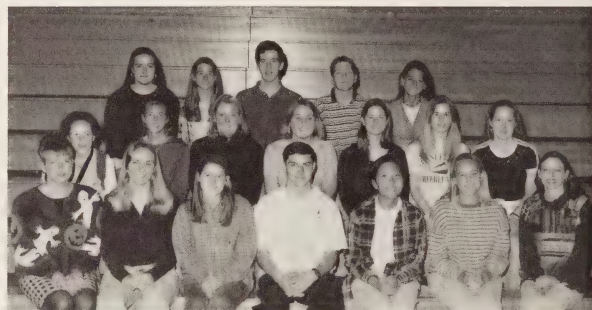

Mrs. Garfield is the ICC Sponsor. The ICC is comprised of the vice presidents of each club. They help all of our clubs and organizations to work together.

The Symphonic Band put all who attended their concert on December 16 in holiday spirit. Their concert included Westminster Carol, Here We Wassailing, O Holy Night, and Sleigh Ride.

The Lightning Regiment Marching Band provides Chancellor with a beat that uplifts our spirits. Their performances during half time keep us entertained and energized. They do not only perform at football games but also can be seen at the bon fire, pep rallies, and many other events where Chargers can be found.

Sports

Swimming

is about the only sport not offered at Chancellor.

Chancellor's athletes didn't choose to test the waters with their big toe but dove head first into the AAA division. Our teams proved to be true Chargers, accepting the challenge and excelling both as individuals and as teams. Many teams were added as a result of this change including Girls Volleyball, Freshman Football, Freshman Boys Basketball, and Freshman Girls Basketball.

The team's first year at AAA ended up very successful. By working together, both offense and defense, very hard, the team was able to end the season third in the district. Eddie Whelan, Jimmy Heflin, Jason Drugatz, and Darrin Comfort discuss the next play. Brett Knowles prepares for the offense. Darrin Simmons charges to catch the pass. Naeem Coleman runs the ball, trying to make a touchdown. Scott Mendenhall adds strength to the offense. The whole team played the best that they could at each and every game.

The team intently listens in the huddle.

This years football teams, varsity, junior varsity, and freshman all had great seasons. The strength of each individual combined with the total effort of the team, was the key to success. The Chargers will continue to improve and make a lasting impression on the other teams in the district for years to come. The varsity team will lose many great seniors next year but their are many younger Chargers ready to carry on the tradition of excellence.

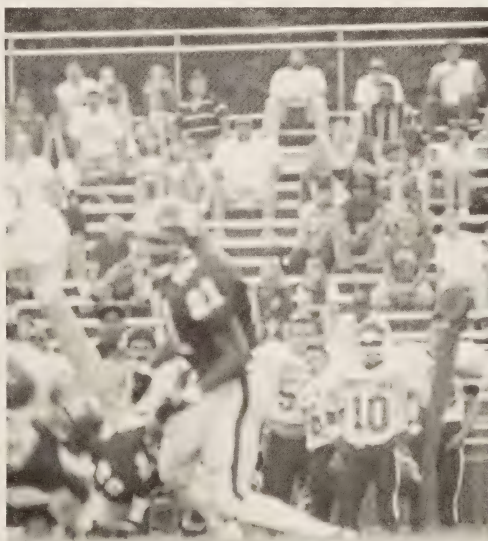

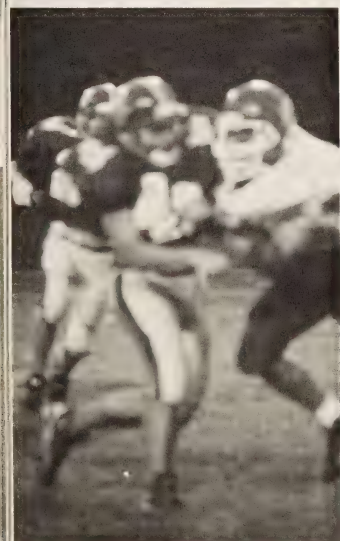

Football is a game of time, strength, and dedication. Chancellor players whether on or off the field are proud and confident of upcoming games. Each position and play are practiced and performed in hopes of a successful outcome.

Jason Drugatz plays hard and makes sure he performs his duty on the field to the best of his ability. Chris Foster walks away from advancing the Chargers further down the field.

Ready for whatever the opposing team has to offer, the Chargers defense lines up. Tony Browne and John Picariello were both honored on All District First Team for their defensive skills. At half time the team exits to the field house to discuss the mistakes they made and how they will fix them in the upcoming quarters.

Seniors, John Picariello and Naeem Coleman play their last few high school games with all the strength and knowledge they have learned in their past years.

The MVP of this years Field Hockey Team belongs to Trish Graham. Defensive Player of the Year is Sara Drebes. The team's Incentive Award goes to Cara Small, and the Coaches Award belongs to Beth De Rigg. The Varsity Field Hockey Team experienced some tough competition, in their first year as a Triple A Team.

Seniors on the Varsity Field Hockey Team are Trish Graham, Allyson Dell, and Jenny Scott.

This year's Cross Country Team ran hard, fast and with a lot of heart, achieving great results. Brendan Brody, Tamela Berry, Jennifer Cole, Jennifer Walker and Sarah Folse made All District this year. The star of the team is Sarah Folse who not only made All-District, but also All-Regional and All-State. Great Job Sarah!

This is the first year Chancellor had a Girl's Volleyball Team, and the girl's showed the school that they are great players. Amy Anderson, Dana Jones and Julie Wells made 1st Team All-District. Alexis Gregory, Jen Dodson and Casey Woodard made 2nd Team All-District. The Team Awards go to: Amy Anderson — MVP; Dana Jones — Coachable; Alexis Gregory — Intensity; and Most Improved — Katie Synan.

The Girl's Volleyball team gets a little pep talk before one of Chancellor's first ever girl's volleyball games. Even though the Chargers didn't win many games it was a learning experience for all.

Even though the girl's tennis team didn't win any games this year they still had a strong team which included some who had never played before. Ariel Hatfield (selected as MVP this year) and Jen Young (given the coach's award) show everyone how to play tennis.

Girl's Tennis was changed to a fall sport this year because Chancellor went AAA, but these girls showed that they didn't mind playing in the cold weather this year.

Go CHS!

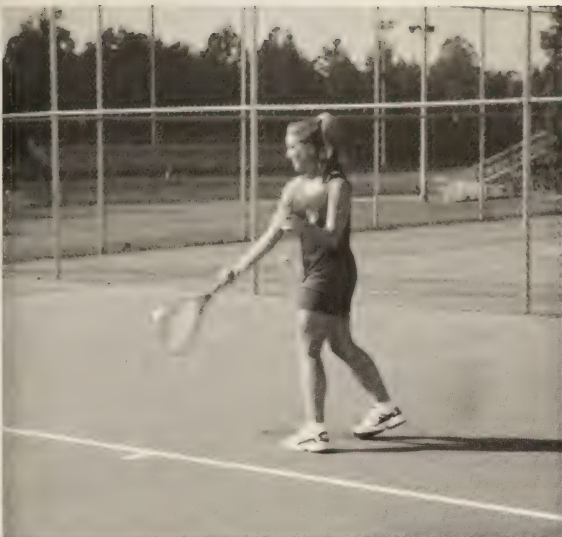

Caroline Milton, Laurie Aaronson (who was selected as most improved this season), and Meghan Woodcock prove that hard work and dedication pay off toward season's end.

Fall Cheerleading

Coaches: Ms. Cromwell and Ms. Valbrek

The Varsity Cheerleaders perform their routine at one of our many spirit-filled pep rallies.

Junior Varsity cheerleaders: Stephanie Ashton, Marianna Ayers, Shannon Baird, Missy Baird, Courtney Deihr, Melissa Duncan, Erica Garcia, Julie Klein, April Merritt, Ehren Shewchuk, and Julie Traveller.

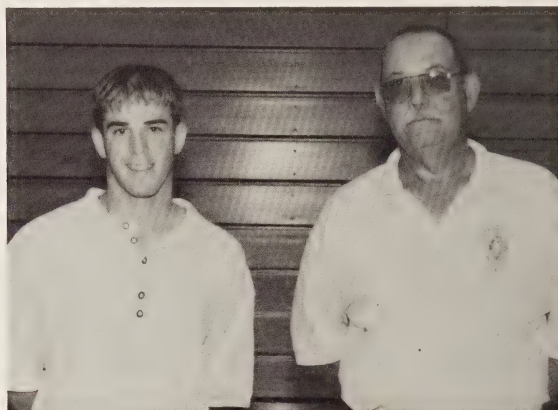

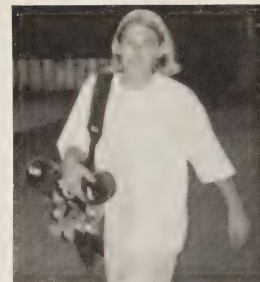

The cheerleaders show their Homecoming spirit by decorating their wall. Cheerleaders help keep our school spirit at flood level throughout the year.

The MVP of this year's Golf Team goes to Kyle Farmer, seen on the right driving towards the green.

Rory Turner and Jeremy Higgs are both dropping their putts. The Golf Team did a very good job competing as a AAA Team for the first time in Chancellor's history.

The Varsity team worked hard to keep the scores close this season which kept the fans on the edge of their seats throughout most of the games. A game that brought much suspense was the home game against Courtland. This game went into overtime on a controversial call against Chancellor. However, Chancellor charged through with a victory in the end and provided the fans with a reason to celebrate.

Wrestling is a very difficult sport. It requires dedication, strength of the mind and body, and a non quitting attitude. Unfortunately our wrestling team struggled with injuries, and absences. However all of the wrestlers tried their best and turned out a good season. Mark Clark won 2nd place in the district championship, Jason Beaird landed 3rd place and Brian Seay hooked in at 4th.

Running Indoor Track make you think of running indoors right? Well, not this track team. When the weather is nice they prefer to be running outside. Paul Maas and Juli Woodcock break away from their opponents to lead Chancellor to yet another victory while their teammates prefer to have fun and cheer them on Kellie Gordon and Colin Bremer show off their arm strength while Naeem Coleman and Xavier Richardson stretch before a big meet.

One of the many events the indoor track team participates in is the high jump. One member takes his turn while his teammates watch nearby.

You are our sunshine, our Bajan beauty —

How do you hold a moonbeam in your hand?

*Love,
Mama, Daddy, & Ryan*

Time in high school passes like a dream, senior year you were captain of the VB team.

The time has come to graduate,
to the ceremony we hope you won't be late.

Our pride and love for you grow each day,
as you show your talents in any way.
Off to college now you will go,
We will miss you at home we want you to know.

For now we'll have to do your chores, that's OK, you never were good at floors.

The cat's box will certainly be cleaner,
but without you the cat will be meaner.

We wish you good luck in all that you do,
give it your best and you surely will come through.

*With love,
Your Family*

Every generation needs its own "one voice" — the voice that chooses to be different — a voice that says it may be done that way, but let's try it this way. As you have always done, choose to question the usual, the normal. Life is out there, just waiting for you. So go, live, enjoy — and never forget how special you are and how much we love you.

Mom & Dad

Ali & Stephanie Duncan

You have made life the surprise party that never ends. Watching you bounce and bubble through life has been a rare pleasure. You are proof that God has a sense of humor.

Turn around . . .

Turn around . . .

Turn around and you're a young girl, going out of the door.

The years have passed too quickly, but the joy of seeing you grow are precious memories we will always treasure. You will travel many paths without us now, but the Lord will continue to walk by your side, and we will always be here for you. We'll love you forever, we'll like you always, as long as we're living, our baby you'll be.

HEATHER KAMILLE WADE

CONGRATULATIONS

From the gardens of Heaven
God surely chose
The white of the lilies
The pink of the rose
The red of the tulip
The goldenrod fair
For your skin and your cheeks
For your lips and your hair
Out of pink blossoms
He fashioned your ears
And a sparkling white snowdrop
Became your bright tears
Then God took the daisy
Its petals so sweet
For your fingers and toes
And you were complete
And the angels were smiling
The day of your birth
At a Beautiful Baby,
HEATHER KAMILLE WADE
God's gift to us
On this wonderful Earth.

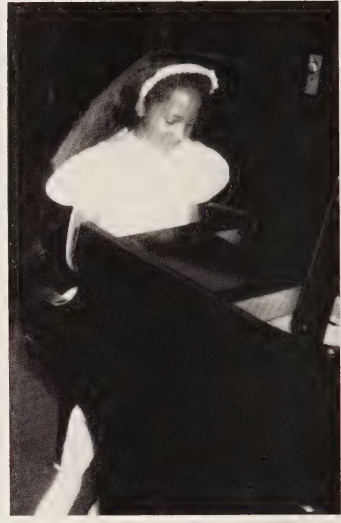

We wish you happiness,
You are our joy and laughter.
Remember to reach for the stars,
for with God all things are possible.
Remember, we will always love you.
Mom and Dad.

You may wonder why we're proud
We look upon you and reflect,
The young man before us
So handsome, with such intellect.
With talents so many,
You really found your niche
You act, you sing,
And boy, can you ever pitch!
We know you're rock solid
Like an unwavering fixture
So go forth with our love

Javier:
Throughout the years you have brought
Much joy and satisfaction to us.
We know that with your outstanding talents,
Positive attitude, and hard work,
You will play an important role in our society
And contribute to a better world.
Son, don't forget to always do what it is right
And remember those less fortunate
By lending them a helping hand.
Have faith in God and he will guide you
In all your endeavors.
Congratulations for all your high school achievements
And for your graduation with honors!

Whether you are
— stumbling to walk or racing to skate
— Reciting or orating
— laughing or crying
— Winning at state or losing at state
— Singing in the choir or while doing the dishes
— Speaking Japanese, Latin, Spanish, or rap
— Cutting cadavers or caring for the elderly
— Wearing sequins or sweats
— Driving the car too fast or your sister too crazy
— Going to Spelman, Duke, or UVA
— Doubting God or Worshiping him
— Experiencing agony or adoration over Newport News
— Being funny or phenomenal,
You are incredibly, undeniably, undoubtedly, eternally
PRECIOUS to us.

The Challenges Colophon

We have a unique theme to represent our ninth, the 1996-97 school year — Just Add Water — and we had a lot of fun incorporating this theme. First, we had the help of Mr. Ernie Pennington and the Spotsylvania Parks Department who arranged for us to use Loriella Park Pool for an hour of underwater pictures in August. Next, we sent a memo to all faculty and staff asking for names of involved, caring students who would be willing to help us without asking too many questions and keeping it a secret. We received over 60 names. Many of these students came ready to get soaking wet for the cause. Thank you — all of you. If some of the pictures didn't come out, we're sorry. This was our first effort at underwater photography. We also developed the theme with uses of water terminology, such as "flood" or "dive in." This year's staff includes six seniors: Maria Chiesa, Advertising Editor; Aliessa Duncan, Layout Editor; Stephanie Duncan, Photography Editor; Allison Gerber, Copy Editor; David Johnson; and Marilyn Rodriguez, Section/Deadline Editor. Our two underclassmen are Jennifer Merideth and Mandy Robinson.

Our yearbook is published by JOSTENS, with Jay Hollis as our sales representative and John Fletcher, who is our factory service rep. This is our ninth year with JOSTENS, but this year we switched to their Winston-Salem plant. Our book is in a trim size of 8½ x 11 and consists now of 224 pages (8 more than last year to accommodate the extra sports since we became AAA). We also have a 20 page spring supplement that is handed out on the first day of school.

In addition to creating 244 pages of yearbook, the Challenges staff's duties include supervising and taking over 2000 pictures, editing senior quotes, assimilating sports and clubs rosters, and selling ads and senior tributes. We also participate in Homecoming activities and donate time and money to charitable causes. Actually, our staff represents the theme very well — a good recipe for success is to JUST ADD WATER.

Putting out a yearbook is lots of hard work, but sometimes hard work is fun. We always manage to have a good time, even under the stress of deadlines.
